Booking and Cancellation Policy

Payment/Refunds: Tuition must be paid in full at time of registration. We accept checks and credit cards for payment. You may cancel your class reservation up to 14 days in advance of class and receive a full refund. For cancellations made less than 14 days, but more than 5 days from the date of the class, you will receive full credit for the original class, which may be applied towards a future class at The Willows Cooking School. Cancellations made less than five days in advance are not refundable, but may be transferred to another individual who may take your place in the class.

NOTE: Credit card payments will be refunded to your credit card less the amount of any service fees The Willows incurs for processing and/or refunding such charges.

Liability: The use of cooking utensils, including sharp instruments, hot surfaces, and equipment, can make cooking dangerous. The Willows Cooking School, The Willows Bed and Breakfast and its owners/agents will not be held responsible for any loss, injury or damage, to students, or their property, due to any act or omission by The Willows or it's agents.
